

“Let the children free; encourage them; let them run outside when it is raining; let them remove their shoes when they find a puddle of water; and, when the grass of the meadows is damp with dew, let them run on it and trample it with their bare feet; let them rest peacefully when a tree invites them to sleep beneath its shade; let them shout and laugh when the sun wakes them in the morning.

~Maria Montessori

Anja Ambrus

was born and raised in Germany and is fluent in English and German. Anja graduated 2011 from Hochschule Furtwangen University' in Germany with a bachelor's degree in Business Networking (E-Business). In addition, she volunteered in a program (Jobbruecke e.V.) that helped children who struggled in school to succeed and to help improve future career opportunities. Before she moved to the U.S. in spring 2017, she worked as Project Manager and then as Online Marketing Consultant in Germany. Anja is married and has two kids.

“After settling in Mount Prospect, I had to become familiar with the early childhood school system in order to find the appropriate educational program for my children. I discovered that the Montessori philosophy; this, fits best to my understanding of early childhood education and growth development.

The positive experience of having a strong and independent child at home aroused my interest to research and gain a better understanding of the Montessori philosophy.

I wanted to change my career-path to something which is sustainable and fills my heart with joy. Working with children based on the Montessori principals, combined with my strong empathic skills seems to be the perfect fit. Based on that I enrolled my children at AGBMS and then I applied to the Montessori Teacher Training Institute at AGBMS in the summer of 2018.”